
OUT ON THE LIMB

with George Vierhus

THANKSGIVING, A strictly American tradition, is the time when we all should take an inventory of our blessings.

Admittedly there may be a few around who might be a little hard-pressed to find something for which to be thankful. But generally if a person looks hard and long enough, something will show up.

It has been our experience, however, that generally it is those individuals who have been subjected to the most adversity who are the most appreciative of their blessings.

We suppose it is because they know how bad things can really be, and the bright spots stand out more clearly.

Anyway Thanksgiving gives us all an opportunity to sort of review our own particular situations. We will give odds that the assets will outweigh the liabilities.

Mind you now, we are not talking about money.

At least not exclusively.

FOR EXAMPLE, SOME of our "constant readers" could be thankful that they do not have to be exposed to this column more than once a week.

And, we know there are a number around who probably would be eternally grateful if this column did not appear at all.

Which reminds us that one of the carrier boys reported that one of his subscribers hesitated recently about paying him the 35-cents due for a month of The Press.

The subscriber told the carrier that he didn't like the editor and didn't think he would pay.

We can be thankful that there are not many like that.

But, golly, they shouldn't take their dislike of us out on the young kid.

It's not his fault that your editor is considered so villainous in some quarters.

Anyway all of us here at The Press extend to all of you, sincere Thanksgiving greetings.

Have a happy day!

THANKSGIVING TIME at the paper is a little confusing.

It is the beginning of the mixed-up holiday season that really won't become unmixed until after the start of 1971.

The Press, as it has in past years, hits the streets on Monday instead of Wednesday of Thanksgiving week.

That, of course, necessitates a change in the regular routine with Friday becoming Monday and Saturday, Tuesday as far as the joint was concerned. The office will be closed on Friday.

During the Christmas holiday period, there will be repeat performance in this early publication bit. The Press will be out one day sooner (Tuesday instead of Wednesday) during Christmas week and will adhere to the schedule the following week (New Years).

All of us will probably survive and we know it could be a sort of fun time; that is, if all of us can figure out just what day of the week it is.

That shouldn't be too tough to do.

If we work at it, that is.

"A DOUBLE-GATED Siamese"—Yup, that's what the report showed.

And the planning commissioners were not sure the other night whether they had become involved unknowingly in an animal farm instead of the subdivision that was before 'em.

Some of the commissioners were probably familiar with the term, inasmuch as it was part of the fire department's recommendation for a subdivision and so they prob-

Teachers Janet Burns, Mrs. Fern Shank and Mrs. Gerry Chartrand guided the class in making their costumes, part of an over-all program to bring the pageantry of Thanksgiving to the youngsters.

AT ROLLING HILLS SCHOOL

Board to meet on Dec. 3 on finances of district

Financial woes of the strife-torn Campbell Union School District are scheduled to be publicly aired at a special board meeting on Thursday, Dec. 3, at Rolling Hills School at 7 p.m.

Whether the board plans to meet in a personnel session prior to the Dec. 3 meeting has not been announced at press time.

Such a meeting has been demanded by Neal Royer, superintendent since 1964, who was demoted on Oct. 8 to principal.

No reasons have been given for Royer's demotion and in his letter has requested the reasons be presented at an executive meeting within 10 days from Nov. 17.

The sole purpose of the Dec. 3 meeting, however, is to review the Citizens Advisory Finance Committee report, filed with the district last month. The contents of the report, which emphasized the failure of the board to react to the chaotic financial position of the district, was largely responsible for the recall movement now under way against two of the board members, Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong and Ralph Steinberg.

The citizens committee also recommended the dismissal of C. E. Bradley, the business manager of the district. The recall movement was given further impetus when the majority of the board, Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, Mrs. Graham-Armstrong and Steinberg, demoted the superintendent, Neal Royer, to principal of Forest Hill School.

The scheduling of the public meeting on Dec. 3 to discuss the financial report was made at the last board meeting (Nov. 12) at Rosemary School when MacQuiddy, Mrs. Graham-Armstrong and Steinberg refused to accept the resignations that had been submitted by three members of the citizens committee, Dr. Robert King, Ken Burmeister and Hank Mestice.

AUDIT OPPOSED

At the same meeting in a related matter, a motion by Trustee Jim Gilliland, seconded by Mrs. Judy Ruscigno, asking that a state audit be made of the district's books at no cost to the district,

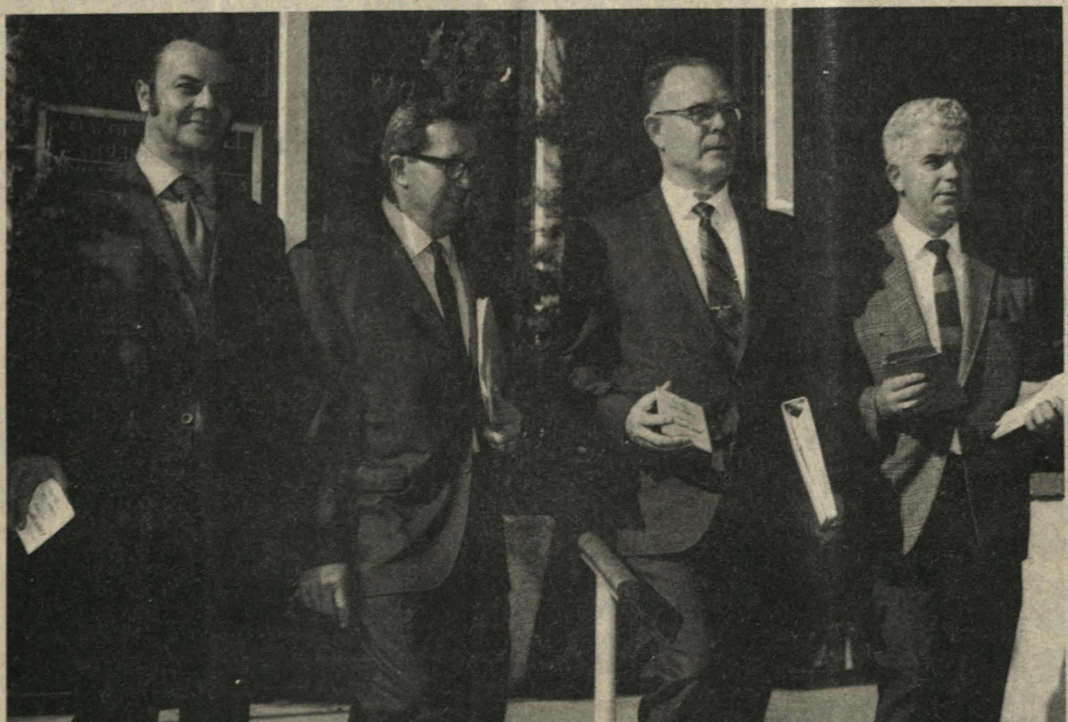
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR—James P. Roth, 33, on Nov. 18, became the new executive director of 48-bed Campbell Community Hospital, Bob Brydon, chairman of the board of trustees, announced this week. Since May when Sam Franks retired, Brydon has acted as the hospital administrator.

Roth, born in Youngstown, Ohio, is a graduate of Youngstown State University and received his masters degree in hospital administration from Xavier University in Cincinnati, Ohio.

He served in administrative capacities in hospitals in Ohio, New Jersey and Illinois and comes to Campbell from Dearborn Medical Center in Dearborn, Michigan where he was executive director.



GOING TO THE PEOPLE—The four city councilmen pictured above, (left to right) Bill Smeed, Ralph Doetsch, Dean Chamberlin and Bill Podgorsek, have begun an intensive campaign to inform the citizens of the city why they feel their decision, rezoning a six-acre parcel adjacent to the Winchester Drive-in Theater to allow a third screen, should be upheld at the city's first referendum election on Tuesday, Dec. 8.

The four councilmen maintain that should their decision be overruled the city faces the possibility of a law suit from the property owner affected, that could impose a heavy financial burden on the city and result in higher taxes.

By a resolution the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, this week, endorsed the Council's position and urged a "YES" vote on Dec. 8.

On Friday, Dec. 4, the Campbell JayCees are sponsoring a public information debate at which time both proponents and opponents of the referendum measure will be heard. The forum will take place at Campbell Elementary School (295 Cherry Lane) at 8 p.m., according to Rich Bonnet, JayCee publicity chairman.

Football menu

Thanksgiving is a special day for everyone but it is a bigger day for the high schools in the area with five West Valley League games scheduled, the kickoffs all at 11 a.m.

Leigh High has the championship all but wrapped up and meets Westmont; Camden battles Del Mar; Saratoga meets Blackford and Branham and Prospect go at it.

And then, of course, on the Campbell High field, there is the real big one, with Campbell meeting Los Gatos for the 37th time.

Pictures and more details appear on the inside pages.

OFFICE CLOSED

The Campbell Press office will be closed all day, Friday, Nov. 27, the day after Thanksgiving.

In order to publish two days earlier this week (on Monday instead of Wednesday), the staff worked last Saturday.

Happy Thanksgiving to you, too.

A THANKSGIVING MESSAGE

Traditionally The Campbell Press asks local clergy to bring a Thanksgiving message.

This year's message is from the First Church of Christ, Scientist, at 395 W. Rincon.

The Pastor in the Christian Science church is the "Bible", and "Science and Health With Key To The Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy. These are read by a First and Second Reader who are elected from the church membership for a three year period. The current Readers are now in their second year of reading.

First Reader is Richard R. Roush, C.S., a native of Santa Clara Valley, who attended Los Gatos High School and received mechanical engineering degree from the University of California in 1960.

Roush has been a member of the Campbell church for ten years. He is employed by Lockheed Missiles and Space Company as an advanced system engineer in the future programs office. He has served as Church president, chairman of the board, Sunday school teacher, and membership committee chairman prior to being elected as Reader.

Second Reader is Ann L. Mashos, formerly of Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Mashos received her BA degree at Morris Harvey College, is now employed as a teacher at Jefferson Elementary School. She has been a member of the Campbell church five years, and has served as ass't. superintendent in the Sunday School prior to election as Reader.

Thanksgiving 1970

How can anyone put his heart into "Thanksgiving when there's so much violence and grief in the world?

It's not a new question. The Bible tells of good men who struggled hard for an answer.

But this is what they found:

The times of greatest trouble are the times when men need the spirit of Thanksgiving most of all.

Gratitude in the midst of "good times" and material prosperity comes all too easily, and is apt to be superficial.

When forced to look more deeply into life—to find a more unselfish love and other riches of Spirit—only then do we begin to discover the real meaning of Thanksgiving, to see more clearly man's constant debt to God for everything that is truly good.

This kind of thanksgiving, when challenged by adversity, only grows stronger.

Treachery and tyranny were closing in on him, the Bible says, but Daniel "prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime."

In the middle of a raging storm at sea, with the ship he was on about to be smashed on the rocks, Paul "took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all."

Whether faced by hungry multitudes or standing before the tomb of Lazarus, Jesus first gave thanks.

In the sublimest example of all, on the night before his crucifixion, during the darkest hours the world has known, Jesus "took the cup, and gave thanks"—and then invited those who were with him to share in his life.

The basis of his thanksgiving, as he indicated often, was a deep and constant acknowledgment of his imperishable unity with God—something that filled his being and governed everything he did.

He expected that we too would feel it—would say "our Father" because we really had to, because we saw it was so.

Isn't this the only basis for thanksgiving? Material blessings just don't go around. Tables are empty, and sometimes a chair is empty.

But there is always a reason for thanksgiving. It's built into the structure of things, and it never changes. We catch clear glimpses of it when we're moving by compassion, reaching out in totally unselfish love. Then we know ourselves better—and our neighbor. And thanks flows out.

Perhaps what it comes down to is this:

To give thanks to God really means to give ourselves, our hearts and minds. This is only giving back what we owe to Him in the first place. But we must consciously give ourselves to God in order to know the blessing of what it means to be His sons.

"Simply asking that we may love God will never make us love Him," wrote Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of Christian Science; "but the longing to be better and holier, expressed in daily watchfulness and in striving to assimilate more of the divine character, will mould and fashion us anew, until we awake in His likeness."

The prophet Malachi summed it up:

"Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

Editorial

An assumption BUT

Those opposed to a zone change action taken by four members of the City Council, which has led to the city's first referendum election on Dec. 8, have been critical of the statement made, that should the citizens overrule the Council, there is a strong possibility that a law suit would be filed against the city based on the premise that the city had deprived a property owner (Syufy Enterprises) of the right to develop its property.

Those sponsoring the referendum maintain that such an argument is merely an "assumption."

Obviously it is an assumption.

But the assumption is based on a sound foundation.

The referendum was initiated by two planning commissioners who felt that the City Council's action, rezoning a six-acre parcel adjacent to the Winchester Drive-in Theaters, was basically wrong and was contrary to the general plan of the city.

The six-acre parcel had no direct access to a public road. The only possibilities for providing access were through the existing theater or over a 36-foot easement private road owned by an adjacent property owner.

Obviously, if a 224-apartment complex was to be constructed on the six acres as had been suggested, the question of ingress and egress would be of prime concern. Even if the 36-foot right-of-way could be obtained (and indications were that getting a satisfactory agreement for its use was virtually an impossible task) dumping traffic from 224 apartments on such a right-of-way would compound the traffic problems in the area.

Therefore, the Council (by a four-vote majority) took the position that approving the zone change to M-1-S to allow a third screen was really the only alternative.

In effect, the Council action was based on the premise that apartments could not be constructed because of the lack of adequate access and that a property owner had the right to develop his property, so the alternative was the third screen route.

The question of possible litigation enters the picture any time when a governmental body deprives a property owner of use of his property and does not go through the process of acquiring it outright.

It is a built-in protection that we all have.

The "assumption," therefore, that the city faces a law suit from a property owner who is deprived of his rights has a firm basis.

In addition, the city attorney of the City of Campbell has advised the City Council that litigation is a definite possibility, if the referendum is successful.

The city attorney's opinion is a matter of record.

At a recent City Council meeting three direct questions were asked the legal counsel. The answers clearly indicated the danger and financial risks that the situation presents.

Here are the questions and answers:

Q. If the City Council is not upheld, is a law suit a probability?

A. A vote of the people overruling the Council's action, does not remove the liability of what could be termed "inverse condemnation," the property in question still would be virtually landlocked and thus the owner could revert to litigation for recourse.

Q. What is the position of the City of Campbell?

A. Without going into detail and discussing possible defenses, the city's position would be "delicate" because of the background.

Q. If the City loses the law suit, what potential liability would the city incur?

A. In actual dollars, it would be difficult to estimate the amount of any judgment that would be rendered, although it is conceivable that a suit could be filed for as much as $500,000.

The Campbell Press concedes that should the City Council be overruled on Dec. 8, a law suit against the city is only an "assumption."

On the other hand, the city's legal counsel submits that it is a definite possibility. And four members of of the City Council are concerned over what a successful law suit against the City would mean to the city's fiscal position as it pertains to the tax rate.

We sincerely believe that the Council should be upheld by a "YES" vote on Dec. 8.

ably figured it had to do with fire hydrants.

And it did.

Apparently a "double-gated siamese", as used by the fire laddies in this instance, pertains to a two-spigot fire hydrant and not a special breed of cat with a peculiar walk.

We didn't press the matter any further.

A SUPPLEMENTARY REport prepared by the planning staff of the city, in conjunction with an application before the Planning Commission requesting approval of a new towing and storage yard, revealed that there would be storage space for 181 cars in town (maximum), if the new yard was approved.

The planning commissioners approved the new yard but expressed some concern over the need for so much space for towed-away cars as the report indicated also that 78 cars in storage was the current daily average.

We really don't know too much about this towing-storage business, although we recognize that the tow-trucks we have seen hauling vehicles have to land somewhere.

They just don't keep moving forever.

We are also well aware of the minor explosions that occur when cars are towed away from a parking lot and the car owners have to pay stiff fees to get them out of hock.

But somehow those particular cars never seem to land in one of Campbell's own storage yards, according to what we have learned.

And that seems to be one of the main drags to this towing thing.

NOT BEING MUCH OF A fisherman, we don't have the same affection for a fishing rod that a friend of ours apparently has for his, according to what we have learned.

John P. Thomas, an upholsterer of note who has been around these parts for quite some time, was fishing in the Delta country recently with a group of his buddies.

A pretty good size boat came by where John and his friends were relaxing with their lines in the water and the wake shook John's equipment loose.

And into the water went his line, reel and rod.

With his pipe still in his mouth and without a moment's hesitation, John dived into the water after his stuff.

And he was able to grab it before it sank.

With the help of his friends, John managed to buck the current and get back into the boat.

He was soaked clear through and pretty well tuckered out from his efforts when he climbed in. But his pipe was still in his mouth.

And he had saved his fishing equipment.

He admitted somewhat sheepishly that it was the instant reaction that caused him to dive in when he saw the rod, reel and line for which he had just paid $35 getting away from him.

We'll stick to golf.

Our clubs don't get into the water.

That is, unless we throw 'em.

What's that, you said?

A RECORD OF DISTINGuished Service to the City of Campbell will come to an end next month for Joe Bonacina, city attorney. For 16 years Joe has been the legal advisor for the city.

Joe has been the first and only city attorney this city has had.

He was employed when the city was first incorporated in 1952 and he handled all the legal technicalities that involved the formation of a new city.

And through the years, Bonacina has kept abreast of the many sticky, municipal legal problems that are part and parcel of an expanding municipality.

Joe became city attorney when Campbell had a population of 7500.

He will leave the office of city attorney of the city of 24,000.

Obviously during the years, the city attorney's rulings have not always been popular ones.

And there have been times, when we differed with Joe's legal approach vehemently.

But Bonacina, in our opinion, has always acted in what he sincerely felt was for the best interest of the city legalwise.

And no city council can ask for more than that from any legal counsel.

He has served the city well.

FIRST THANKSGIVING AT PLIMOTH PLANTATION

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING celebrated at Plymouth in 1621 was a harvest festival, a gathering of family, friends and neighbors, and a time of games and feasting.

Almost half of the original 102 Pilgrims had survived the first winter. They had labored long and hard to build a village and plant crops. When their harvest was gathered, they celebrated.

In writing to a friend in England describing the First Thanksgiving, one of the Pilgrims said: "Our harvest being gotten in, our Governor William Bradford sent four men on fowling; so that we might after a more special manner, rejoice together, after we had gathered the fruit of our labours. They four, on one day, killed as much fowl as, with a little help besides served the company almost a week."

"And among the rest, their (the Indians) greatest king, Massasoit, with some ninety men, whom for three days, we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five deer; which they brought to the Plantation and bestowed on our Governor, and upon the Captain (Myles Standish) and others."

In describing this Thanksgiving, which set the pattern for the traditional American celebration, other writers tell of foot racing, wrestling, exercising arms (infantry drill) and pitching the bar.

These scenes were acted out by citizens of Plymouth, Massachusetts, many of whom are descendants of those who celebrated the First Thanksgiving. Appropriately enough, the setting was at Plimoth Plantation, an outdoor museum where the first Pilgrim settlement is being re-created.

Board to meet

failed to win board approval, although Mrs. Graham-Armstrong cast the lone negative vote.

MacQuiddy and Steinberg abstained from voting on the motion, maintaining that they felt it would be better to wait until financial status of the district was discussed at the Dec. 3 meeting.

Mrs. Ruscigno in favoring the audit submitted that public confusion over the financial condition of the district demanded immediate action.

At the last meeting, in an attempt to institute more orderliness in the proceedings at board meetings, Dr. MacQuiddy explained that those in the audience wishing to address the meeting must make written requests on forms provided at the door.

When during the meeting, Gordon Martin, representing the West Valley Federation of Teachers, persisted in speaking without filing a request, Gilliland demanded a point of order.

MacQuiddy then ruled that Martin had to file a request as specified.

It was also directed that at the public meeting Dec. 3 on the financial situation of the district, all questions must be submitted in writing prior to the meeting.

By a rare unanimous vote the board rejected the purchase of an NCR machine because the funds needed had not been totally budgeted and it had not been specified in the calling for bids that it was to be on a lease-purchase arrangement.

Mrs. Ruscigno at the board meeting cast the lone negative vote against instituting the two phases of Family Life Program in the 7-8 grades which is an elective program and parents must agree to allow their children to participate. Mrs. Ruscigno emphasized that the responsibility for such instruction should be retained in the home.

Fred Peterson, acting assistant to the superintendent, reported that the principals of the schools involved in the joint city-school district neighborhood park program, were to meet with Bill Wren, city public works director, to work out details of the program and then report back to the board.

Under the park program, the City of Campbell will allocate $10,000 for development of each of the parks, provided a definite plan is presented for a cooperative venture.

Peterson also reported that there will be a breathing spell for one year with respect to the noise problem near Moorpark School created by freeway traffic because the street will be rerouted temporarily.

ROYER LETTER

The Dec. 3 meeting and the regular meeting of Dec. 10 (at Cypress School) are the only ones that had been called at press time.

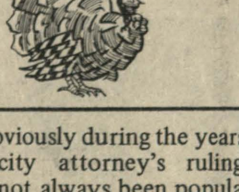
What the reaction will be to the request made by Royer, the deposed superintendent, was apparently still undetermined.

The Royer-demotion, which has been instrumental in causing a wide rift in the district, took on a new perspective last week, when Royer, by a letter to all the board members, demanded that the trustees present reasons for their demotion action.

Royer requested in his letter that a closed personnel session be scheduled with him and his legal counsel within 10 days from Nov. 17, for the purpose of presenting reasons for their action.

He added that should the executive session not be scheduled or should it not resolve the dispute, he will bring legal action to do so, including recovery for damages.

In his letter, Royer explained that it was not his intention to add to the many problems and actions facing the district but he felt that enough time had elapsed to resolve the problem and it was necessary to seek every means "to remove the cloud of doubt that you have placed over my head and my career."



Post office prepares for Yule flood

Christmas mailing instructions were issued this week by Dick Adams, officer in charge of the Cambpell post office, as the office once more prepared for the annual Yuletide onslaught.

Adams emphasized that the key to efficient mailing is to mail early and carefully. He cited that clear addressing, using ZIP codes, proper packaging and early depositing could prevent most problems and would provide the greatest value for money spent on postage.

He added this thought: "If it is worth sending, it should be on time. Someone special is waiting for your holiday greeting, don't keep them waiting."

Adams released deadlines for insuring delivery: To distant states, send parcels by Dec. 1 and greeting cards by Dec. 10. Local parcels by Dec. 11 and cards by Dec. 15.

For mailings to service personnel at APO's and FPO's, airmail must be used before Dec. 11 to insure delivery. Parcels sent to Hawaii and Alaska by surface mail must be in the mail by Nov. 30 and cards by Dec. 4. Airmail service deadlines for these items is Dec. 14.

Adams said that to assist customers in meeting these dates, post offices in the area will be open on Saturdays, Dec. 5, 12 and 19.

The Campbell post office hours of service will be from 8:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 8:45 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Fridays and on the three Saturdays the office will be open from 8:45 a.m. to noon.

Delivery service to homes during the holiday period will follow the same pattern as past-years with only one delivery made on weekdays and only special delivery service on Sundays and holidays.

He added that the local post office at the present time has a plentiful supply of Christmas stamps. Zip codes and other information can be obtained by phoning 278-2153 and 378-2158.

TURKEY TALK—Youngsters at Hamilton School had a ball putting on a play about some turkeys, in conjunction with Thanksgiving. Mrs. Barbara Norwood's second grade class made "costumes" (masks) and gave an unusual performance. Left to right, in the front, are; Alex Macias and Jeff Midstokke (pumpkins), Allison Thrush and Sandra Medlin (turkeys). In the rear are Patty Goldie and Felipe Fuentes (announcers) and Tisha Warren (the cook).

Youth collect toys for needy

St. Lucy's Youth Council is collecting usable toys to clean and repair for distribution to needy families for Christmas.

The young people plan to have some work days in which they'll clean and repair and wrap gifts for children who may otherwise have none.

They are also soliciting wrapping paper, gift boxes and paints suitable for toy repair.

Advisors to the Youth Council, Darrel Weichenthal (378-2668) and Don Dean (377-3077) will arrange for pick-up or persons may bring toys to the office at St. Lucy's.

BIG MEAL AHEAD—The "Pilgrims" and the "Indians" are sitting down together for a Thanksgiving feast at Gussie M. Baker School this week in costumes they made themselves. Their menu-"Kindergarten Korn-Bread" and the youngsters will make it and churn butter for their feast.

Thanksgiving Services

Baptist

Saratoga Ave. Baptist Church and Campbell Baptist Church are combining congregations for a Thanksgiving morning service at the Saratoga Church, 1735 Saratoga Ave. at 10 a.m.

The Teen Choir from Campbell church and the adult choir from the Saratoga church will sing.

Theme of the service is patriotic. Don Ward will speak on "I Am The Nation" while James Warnak of the Campbell church will bring the message. Plans are also to read the President's Thanksgiving Proclamation, according to Rev. Harry Twining, pastor of the Saratoga church.

Congregational Methodist Presbyterian

Three local church congregations will unite for a Thanksgiving service on Wednesday evening, Nov. 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Campbell Congregational Church, Immanuel United Presbyterian and First United Methodist Church will meet at the Methodist Church. Speaker will be Rev. Shannon Foster from the Presbyterian church whose topic is "On Being Thankful."

A special united youth choir will sing for the service.

St. Lucy's

A Mass of Thanksgiving will be celebrated on Thanksgiving Day at 9 a.m. at St. Lucy's Church, 2350 Winchester Blvd.

During the service, offerings of canned goods, staples, and toys will be collected to be used in the church's project to collect food for the needy for Christmas.

Churches observe Hospital Sunday

Numerous West Valley churches will observe Good Samaritan Hospital Sunday this week (Nov. 29) with messages from the pulpit and with informational material distributed at services.

This tradition of setting aside one Sunday a year as Good Samaritan Hospital Sunday began even before the local non-profit, community hospital was opened as a reminder of the Christian orientation of the hospital. The founding board of trustees was made up of one third Episcopalians, one third Methodists, and one third community representatives.

The chapel-chaplaincy program at Good Samaritan is the means by which the interdenominational character of the hospital is carried out.

Chaplain Lawrence K. Whitfield is available to call on patients, and his office informs churches when parishioners are in the hospital.

Parlor holds luncheon show

San Jose Parlor No. 81, Native Daughters of the Golden West, will hold its fourth annual Luncheon and Fashion Show, Saturday, Dec. 5, at Zorba's, 1350 S. Bascom at 12 noon.

Mrs. Frank La Metre, chairman for the event, announces the theme will be "Christmas Fantasy".

Fashions will be provided by "The Fashion" of the San Jose Valley Fair Shopping Center. Mrs. Anthony Landini, a member of the Parlor, will be the commentator. Mrs. Ken Lobner, Mrs. Joseph Asselin, Mrs. Earl Crowl, Mrs. Jerry Svindal, Mrs. Arlan Sholes, Mrs. Clyde Bring, Mrs. Frank Hogan and Mrs. Marie Knox will model.

The luncheon and fashion show is open to the public. For information and reservations please call 243-0494 by Dec. 1.

SJ City College presents drama

Euripides' Greek tragedy "Hippolytus" will be presented by the drama department at San Jose City College on the evenings of Dec. 4, 5, 10, 11 and 12 in the college theater, 2100 Moorpark Ave.

The fifth century B. C. drama will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The role of Hippolytus is played by Jim Pereira; Theseus, father of Hippolytus by Bill Campbell; Phaedra, the stepmother whose love is rejected by Hippolytus, by Kathleen Walsh; Aphrodite, portrayed by Donna Young; and the role of Artemis, by Becky Emery.

Other students performing in the play are Irene Flores, Doug Mosher, William Becton, Michael Frazee and Michael Worsham.

THANKSGIVING GREETINGS... to all

Del Mar DAze

Del Mar's Spirit Commission tried a new approach to Homecoming this year. Instead of the annual homecoming rally, the girls decided to have Homecoming Week.

The activities have included class decorations and competition, "Take a Player to Lunch Day," "Dessert Night", and a Sandwich-Eating contest. Spirit Commission felt that these activities would unite the classes to promote spirit for the Dons' last, big game of the season.

Allison Douthit, junior, has been chosen by the Varsity football team to represent Del Mar as Homecoming Queen for 1970. Along with Allison, seniors Ruth Hampton and Sue Dagg, have been chosen as Princesses for the Thanksgiving Day game.

Allison will be crowned, and she and her court will be presented, along with Camden's queen and princesses, during the half-time activities at the game tomorrow.

In addition to the coronation of the Queens, the bands of Camden and Del Mar will be united to perform together. Along with the game, these activities should make a most enjoyable Thanksgiving Day.

Letters to the Editor

TOW AWAY

Dear Sirs:

I think the people of Campbell should know what happened to me so maybe the same thing won't happen to them.

Monday morning I went to Key Market in the shopping center on Winchester and Latimer Aves. to get some groceries. I put the food in the car and walked across the street to the Post Office for stamps. When I returned to get my car, it was gone.

I was going to phone the Police when a police car drove into the lot. I told the officer that my car was stolen.

Before reporting it, he checked with the towing company and found out they had towed my car away! (The shopping center has the service of a private towing company to remove unauthorized cars.)

I called them right away and asked them to please return my car as they had made a mistake; I really was shopping at the center, and I had to get home to feed the baby his lunch. They told me they couldn't release my car unless I paid them $25! I couldn't believe it! I asked the manager of Key Market for help, but all I got was lots of sympathy—not my car.

I then called my lawyer and he advised me to pay and get the car back and then take legal action. At this point, I had the feeling that I was living a nightmare!

By the time I got a babysitter and a ride downtown San Jose, where my car was, it cost me $27.50 to get it back, plus $5.00 for a sitter. I didn't get home from my shopping trip until 5:00 p.m.

Fortunately, there were no perishables in the groceries, or it would have been worse!

I cannot risk paying an extra $27 plus babysitting, or living through this nightmare again to shop at that center, so I, for one, am not going back.

Thank you,
Beverly Maxwell

EXPRESS
YOURSELF!

Save yourself and other residents in the City of Campbell from Higher Taxes.

The first referendum election in the history of the City of Campbell will be held on December 8th.

Your Councilmen Dean Chamberlin, Ralph Doetsch, William Smeed and William Podgorsek have voted to uphold a landowner's Constitutional rights to develop his land. To deny a landowner his rights would be unfair and would result in a costly lawsuit ultimately paid for by taxing the citizens of Campbell.

Your councilmen have spent countless hours trying to protect you from High Taxes.

NOW YOU CAN SAVE YOURSELF FROM HIGH TAXES BY ENDORSING THEIR DECISION TO HELP YOU!

LOCKE---A TOWN OF YESTERYEAR

Town of Locke in Delta country provides "Huck Finn" setting

Out in the Delta country of San Joaquin County, where there are lots of lazy sloughs and fishing spots, there's a lazy little town that is hard to believe.

It has maybe 300 Chinese residents and a few non-Orientals, it looks like a setting for Huck Finn and the habitat of one of Mark Twain's riverboat adventures.

It's the town of Locke, says the California State Automobile Association, located just north of Walnut Grove.

As you walk down the narrow street that comprises most of the town you're apt to see an elderly Chinese man duck down one of the narrow walkways as if to avoid meeting you. The weathered wooden stores and houses are dilapidated but they're charming.

Locke had its beginning about 1916 when fire destroyed much of the Chinatown of Walnut Grove so the Chinese moved a mile up river and built a new settlement. The name derives from an early-day rancher named George Locke who owned the land.

The Chinese came to this area to work the rich farms as laborers and some also helped build the system of levees. Most of those who settle in Locke were members of the Young Wah Tong.

Today the Chinese living here either work locally, in nearby Walnut Grove, or in Sacramento, about 30 miles north of Locke. There are a few stores on the town's main street and they're straight out of the 1930's. One restaurant, Al's Place, is quite popular with visitors and local people and a new one has just recently opened. It is located on the River Road, the highway that passes through the town.

During the years when 5,000 people lived in Locke it had ten boarding houses, several Chinese herb stores, three chop suey restaurants, a bath house, two dry goods stores and a movie house. Not much remains now but the old wooden buildings with their spindly pillars supporting upstairs porches.

Locke is fun to walk through. It makes older people think of their days of youth in small quiet towns and it will make the youngsters think they are stalking the set of an old Western movie.

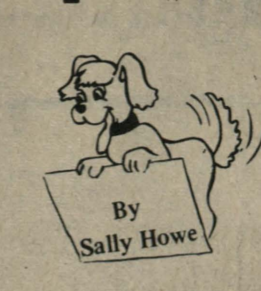
Bringing up fido



In bygone years specific breeds of dogs had definite reasons for existing as society welcomed their dogs, not primarily as pets, but as useful companions.

In Holland, the heavy-coated Keeshonden rode the canal barges, guarding the goods of their owners. (Which would lead one to expect them to be a fierce pet, but outside from being somewhat vocal, make tremendous pets.)

Germany is well-known for the use made of Shepherds, Dobermans and Rottweilers as protection animals.

Bassets and Beagles were friends of the small ground game hunters and Retrievers and Pointers for the bird hunters.

In the Orient, where many Toy breeds originated, the Pekingese and other small breeds were the protectors of the well-to-do.

Amazingly, most of these breeds have been taken from their "working" environment and successfully made the transition to "pets" with little ill effects.

Most breeds of dogs still retain many of the instincts which brought them into popularity and have found their niches as "members of the family".

It is important that a dog be selected with care. It isn't a matter of what so-and-so has that you really like, because a dog DOES reflect their environment and even though Joe Doaks' Cocker Spaniel has a certain personality, it doesn't necessarily follow that his son will be the same, although likely he'll have the same potential.

I recently advised a family against buying a certain breed, because I felt the breed was too exhuberant for their household.

I've since been pleasantly surprised to see that the dog (yes, they went ahead and got it anyway) now reflects the relaxed atmosphere of their family and isn't turning out to be the problem I anticipated.

Many families, because of pressure from small fry, succumb the day before Christmas and rush out and buy a puppy.

If you have any idea that you'll be one of these families, start looking around NOW. The puppy that is picked indiscriminately may not be the right one for you.

Most puppy owners will be happy to hold your puppy until the holidays and, knowing that it's to be a house-pet, work on house-breaking, get necessary shots for you, etc.

Just a holiday tip: Don't leave that big gobbler on the dining room table while you do your after-dinner visiting on Thanksgiving Day. Someone I know told me that their veterinarian wasn't at all pleased to be called out on a holiday to treat a "stuffed poodle."

Food Villa opens super deluxe market in PruneYard Center

Food Villa's new super deluxe food center opens its doors in the PruneYard Shopping Center this week.

This is the fourth store for the group in Santa Clara county, others being located in Santa Clara, San Jose and Los Gatos.

The new store is a masterpiece of architecture in the Spanish motif of the PruneYard. According to Bill Micali of the Food Villa company, the new store required a complete re-alignment and re-arrangement from the more or less standardized supermarket floor plans.

The early day Spanish motif is carried throughout from the exterior to the store's interior decorations and arrangement.

Manager of the new store is Glenn Schroll, a resident of this area since 1951. Schroll has 28 years of experience in the retail food business, including a 15-year stint with the P & X Markets.

A native of Lincoln, Neb., Schroll is married and has three daughters.

Job's Daughters

BETHEL 174

by Becky Leach

On June 6 Kathy Corner was installed as Honored Queen. Her theme was "Prayer is the Key." Her colors were purple and white. It took place at the Santa Clara Masonic Temple.

Kathy's term started off with Convention in Oakland. Forty-four girls and chaperones left on June 26 for Convention 1970.

At the convention our choir won second honorable mention. We sang the songs, "O Yes" and "Thank Heaven For Little Girls".

Three of our girls were in a jazz dance. They were Cherie Stephenson, Jenny Johnson and Sylvia Miller.

There was a fashion contest where Sylvia Miller entered an evening coat. She was in the final competition and went to Vancouver, Canada.

Our second meeting was an inspection and initiation meeting. It took place on Sept. 12. Our Deputy Grand Guardian, Mrs. Lois Pezzaglia, was presented the honor queen's carrying piece. The girls initiated were Lisa Johnson, Sandy Reusaat, Christine Guffy, Terri Roberts, Gail Shankland and Cynthia Miety. It was a very pretty initiation. Afterwards a party was held with refreshments.

One of the most exciting events was the mystery trip. We went to Marine World on Sept. 19, and all ate dinner at the Menlo House on the way home.

Sept. 29 was our afternoon meeting. After the meeting we had a Dime-a-Dip dinner. This was chairmanned by Pam Noland. It was held for Klista, our little adopted Indian girl. With the donations she will receive clothes and shoes.

On Oct. 10 a very beautiful Majority ceremony was held. Girls reaching majority were Claudia Laurence, Gail Russell, Debbie Congdon, Melanie Knight and Sara Shadle.

There was also a special election meeting. Cherie Stephenson was elected Marshal.

On Oct. 17 we had a hay ride at Roaring Camp. It was a great deal of fun and very exciting.

Then there was an Exemplification meeting at Fraternity Lodge No. 399. The girls initiated were Mary McKim, Janet Verbrugge, Carol Kravica, Ricki White, Nancy Gaddis and Dawn Beardsley.

For Halloween Kathy Corner had a Halloween Dance in Los Gatos. There were games, fun and dancing, all in costume.

At Senior Princess Bazaar and Luncheon on Nov. 14, we had a regular election meeting. Carol Barret was elected Marshal. Afterward, the girls went to party and out for ice cream.

Nov. 15 was "Go to Church Sunday" for the Honored Queen's term. The service was a very lovely one. At the end of the service the girls formed the cross and sang "Nearer My God To Thee". Afterwards they went to breakfast.

Alice Mackey held her Junior Princess Project on Saturday, November 21. This was a Father-Daughter box social.

WINNERS AND ADVISORS---Doug Spoon, Elizabeth Christen and Matt Luchs were top can collectors in a contest amongst seventh grade science students at Campbell School recently. The students in science classes taught by Jim LaBerge and Lois Blair (rear) brought in 9,483 aluminum cans and earned $43.62 for the science classes.

Science students learn ecology can be profitable

Did you know that 9,483 aluminum cans can be recycled to help the environment and that they are worth $43.62?

The seventh grade science classes of Mrs. Lois Blair and Jim LaBerge, at Campbell Elementary School, learned this lesson when they collected that many cans as part of an "ecology contest," during the past three weeks. With the money received for the cans, they plan to buy science equipment for the 7th grade science rooms.

Grand prize winner ($3 and an empty can to start her new collection) was Elizabeth Christen who brought in 1820 cans. Runners-up were Doug Spoon and Matt Luchs who together collected 1133 cans.

In the spring a new contest will be held where students will collect all types of cans, bottles, newspapers, magazines, cartons and other recycleable objects for the San Jose State Recycling Center.

Students win speech honors

By Dawn Stoudinger

Campbell High School took third place in the Speech Sweepstakes on Saturday, Nov. 14, at Piedmont Hills High School. Thirty young people from Campbell High participated in the speech tournament.

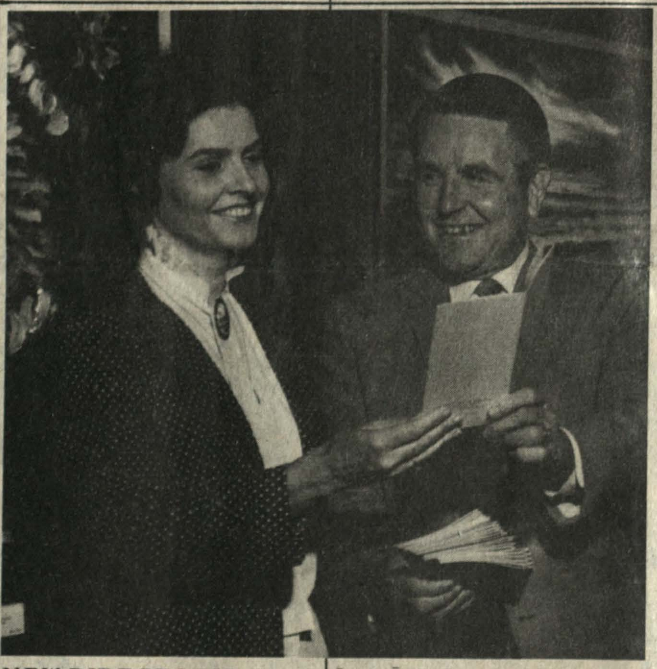
"We beat some schools, who had a hundred contestants," happily states Mike Grindon, winner of a first award in both boy's extempt and boy's impromptu.

The other students who won awards were Emily Erkman, first in girl's extempt, Greg Cato, a third in programmed reading, David Rosenthal, a fourth in boy's extempt, Peter Dent, a first in humorous, Lynn Eldredge, a fifth in girl's impromptu and Stephen Vital, a fourth in programmed reading.

"Extempt is to prepare a five to seven minute speech in 30 minutes. "Impromptu" is a three to five minute speech with two minutes of preparation.

"Programmed reading" is a particular type of reading material picked by the speaker to present.

"I was extremely pleased with the outstanding success of the students," expresses Mrs. Gail Long, head of the speech department.



NEW DIRECTORY---Mrs. Robert M. Wilson, immediate past president of the YWCA and Stanley Parton, vice-president of the Association of Metropolitan San Jose, examine copies of the new "Directory of Black Businesses in Greater San Jose" for distribution at Association headquarters.

YWCA compiles new directory

A "Directory of Black Businesses in Greater San Jose" has been compiled by the racial justice team of the San Jose YWCA as the first step in the organization of a larger directory of businesses and services operated or offered by members of minority races.

The YW's racial justice team is working under the 1970-73 imperative of the YWCA of the USA, which is elimination of racism. The directory's purpose is to help with economic empowerment of minority groups.

The "Directory of Black Businesses in Greater San Jose" is available at the San Jose YWCA, 210 S. Second St., San Jose, phone 292-1075, or at The Association of Metropolitan San Jose. It was put together with donated labor and materials.

Students interested in helping preserve our quickly disappearing natural resources, can now get involved within a club designed for that purpose.

This club, the "Youth Conservation Committee", was set up by the "United New Conservationists' Board of Directors."

Mrs. Donna Brunton, teacher and delegate for her school in the UNC Council of Delegates, will be chairing the new UNC Youth Involvement Committee. It's purpose is to involve schools and other groups of young people in UNC activities, to provide opportunities for communication between youth and adult member organizations, to start up educational and other environmental projects for common action, to show young people how they can become involved in the ecology movement and provide opportunities for greater unity of action among large numbers of these interested people.

Mrs. Donna Brunton, 3502 Gibson Ave., Santa Clara, 95051, phone 296-0237, has invited all interested teachers and youth clubs to contact her for information and possible participation in this effort for saving our environment.

FROM THE CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY PATROL

TIRE STANDARDS

Standards for measuring motor vehicle exhaust emissions and worn tires were authorized by the 1970 legislature and will soon be in use by California Highway Patrol vehicle inspection teams throughout the state.

Beginning November 23, it will be illegal to use on a highway a tire so worn that less than one thirty-second of an inch of tread depth remains in any two adjacent grooves at any location on the tire.

The Patrol previously issued citations for unsafe tires under the Vehicle Code section which makes it unlawful to operate any vehicle which is in an unsafe condition. With the new standard, however, vehicle owners, patrol officers and the tire industry have a common definition of an unsafe tire.

The amendment makes it unlawful for any dealer or retailer to offer for sale or install on a vehicle for use on a highway any tire not in compliance with CHP regulations.

The Patrol has regulated new tire standards for passenger cars for the past year and a half, but some distributors circumvented the law by merely marking their tires in chalk "pick up tire," thus avoiding the passenger car regulations and implying to the innocent purchaser that the tire exceeded the passenger car standards.

Under the amendments, the CHP is authorized to adopt regulations regarding standards and certification procedures for new and used pneumatic tires for all highway uses. It is the intention of the Patrol, which sponsored the bill, to adopt standards which will regulate racing slicks and cheater slicks in such a manner as to prohibit their use on the highways.

Passenger Vehicle Inspection teams soon will be equipped with another new tool—an exhaust emission analyzer.

The Air Resources Board in cooperation with the CHP will adopt standards for testing the efficiency of individual smog control devices on the highway. Once these standards are adopted, PVI procedures will include exhaust emission tests of all vehicles which pass through the PVI lanes.

If a vehicle which is required to be equipped with a smog control system is found to exceed prescribed emission levels, the owner will be required to obtain a certificate of compliance within 30 days from an official Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Device Inspection Station. The licensed installer will perform a "mini-tune-up" to insure the optimum efficiency of the pollution control device.

Certificates of compliance will be valid for a one-year period.

EXPLOSIVES

The California Highway Patrol was given additional authority for regulation of motor carriers by the 1970 Legislature.

The Department was given the authority to inspect any records relating to the pay of drivers as an aid to enforcement of laws pertaining to driving hours.

Responsibility for establishing routes and safe stopping places for carriers of explosives was transferred from the State Fire Marshal to the Highway Patrol.

Hertz trunks at Rent-All

Bob Tellesen, operator-manager of the United Rent-All agency on Winchester Blvd., announced this week the addition of Hertz truck rentals available through his store.

The new arrangement with Hertz, according to Tellesen, will add approximately 300 additional outlets to the more than 1,800 Hertz now has from coast to coast. "In addition to all our other rental items available," Tellesen said, "we can now even rent trucks to do-it-yourself householders as well as commercial customers."

The Hertz Corporation is a subsidiary of RCA Corporation while United Rent-All is a subsidiary of International Industries, Inc.

THANKSGIVING PROJECT—Members of the West Valley College Veterans Club plan to distribute Thanksgiving baskets to 20 needy families in the area on Wednesday. Michael Rivera, ombudsman at the college, has furnished the club with the names of the families. The baskets will be made up of canned goods and turkeys. The turkeys were purchased by the club but most of the canned goods were contributed by local merchants. In the picture, left to right, Bill Rous, Bob Scarbrough, Carmen Winters, Ernie Tomassilli, Al Jessel.

Extended day registration open at West Valley College

All new and returning extended day (evening) students; for the spring semester at West Valley College may now pre-register for extended day classes in the admissions office, 51 E. Campbell Ave., Campbell. Students must bring their social security cards when pre-registering.

After the student has completed a preliminary form for pre-registration in the admissions office, a packet will be mailed to him in December permitting him to register by returning the completed forms in the envelope provided for this purpose.

New and returning extended day students may continue to pick up their packets until mid-January.

In December all continuing extended day students (those who registered for the fall of 1970) will receive in the mail their materials for registrations. These should be completed and returned without delay.

Both new and/or returning students and continuing students registering by mail will have a first choice of extended day classes. This procedure for registering is available to those students intending to remain on an extended day student basis throughout the semester. It is not intended for those students who desire a day class.

All students who wish a day class must register in person during the scheduled day registration period (Feb. 1-3) for both their day and extended day classes. Instruction for both day and evening classes begins Feb. 8.

BASIC TRAINING

Private Bruce Shimizu, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shimizu, 18771 Allendale Ave., Saratoga, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center-Infantry, Ft. Ord, Calif.

Pvt. Shimizu, whose wife, Leslie, lives in Campbell was graduated in 1964 from Campbell High School.

A member of Alpha Omega Rho Fraternity, he received his B.A. degree in Physical Education in 1969 from San Jose State College.

Phone listings deadline nears

The deadline date for adding or changing telephone listings in the white pages of the Campbell-San Martin-Saratoga directory is fast approaching, according to Pacific Telephone manager Nick Roden.

"The last day to make white page additions or changes is Dec. 11," said Roden.

Subscribers who have moved or gotten married since the last directory was published – or who must change their listings from the way it appears in the 1970 book – should contact their business office, said Roden.

The directory will be delivered in early February.

State reading scores improve

California's children are reading a little better than they have but the gain is small and the progress slow.

This is the conclusion that can be drawn from a report on statewide reading test scores presented to the State Board of Education at its recent (Nov. 12-13) meeting in Sacramento. The tests covered children in grades one, two, three, six and twelve. Results were:

At the first grade level—where the national norm is a score of 47—the state's students scored 35.4 in tests given last May. This represents a gain of .9 from the previous year. The first grade score was 30.6 in 1966 when the test first was given.

At the second grade level—where the national norm is a score of 50—the state's youngsters scored 42.6, also up .9 from last year. The second grade score in 1966 was 37.6.

At the third grade level—where the national norm is a score of 72—the state's children scored 63.4, up .3 from last year. The third grade score was 61.9 in 1967, the first year the standardized statewide tests were given at the third grade level.

James H. Crandall, chief of the Bureau of Evaluation and Instructional Research, told the board the improvement was predictable this year after the gains of the previous years.

PG&E employs high percentage of minorities

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. today revealed that 79 per cent of its total increase in employment since January, 1966 to meet increased customer demand has consisted of members of minority communities.

In the past five years, according to Thomas V. Adams, personnel manager, 2,478 jobs have been added to the company's personnel list, bringing to 24,150 PG&E's total employment in Northern and Central California.

Adams said that as of September 30, members of the Black, Oriental, American Indian, or Latin American communities held 12.9 per cent, or 3,122 of all jobs at PG&E.

The company reported today that 1,420 members of minority communities are working for the company in managerial, professional, technical, sales or clerical positions. The remaining 1,702 are employed as craftsmen, operators, service workers or laborers.

Through active support in more than 100 programs to recruit, hire and train minorities, PG&E is working to fulfill a commitment made by the company's executive vice president, John F. Bonner, who stated: "While the most recent employment figures representing PG&E's hiring and training of minorities show a very significant increase, our company is not content just to avoid discrimination. We affirmatively reach out to provide opportunities for citizens from all minority groups, and we will continue to do so in the future."

BofA names new assistant here

Elmo H. Killgore has been promoted to assistant manager-loans at Bank of America's PruneYard branch in Campbell, according to Ed Fabbri, manager.

Killgore, who previously held lending duties on the San Jose regional administration staff, succeeds L. M. Rule. Rule recently advanced to the Milpitas Branch.

Killgore joined BofA in 1953 as a teller at the Gridley Branch and was promoted to bank officer status in 1956.

Marines sponsor bowl game

Two teams from Southern California are going to be on hand on Saturday, Nov. 28, to participate in the ninth annual Toys for Tots Youth Football Bowl game at Buck Shaw Stadium in Santa Clara.

Teams from Venice and Whittier are going to play the San Jose Stingers. The Stinger game will be at 4:30 and the Hornet game at 7 p.m.

Co-sponsors of the game are the San Jose Hornet Gridiron Club and the United States Marine Corps Reserve and children's admission to the game is a good usable toy. Adult price is $1.

Between the games, entertainment plans include pageantry and a presentation of Queen Carolyn Brown of Wilcox High School.

Tickets may be purchased from any player or member of the sponsoring Gridiron club or by calling 252-3864, 248-7085 or 371-0272.

In this country, about 50 per cent of the total retail volume of shopping centers is accounted for after 4:30 p.m.

West Valley Sports

With 11 all-star picks to their credit, including Scott Loomis, the Camino Norte conference's most valuable player, West Valley College's grid squad will meet College of the Sequoias (Saturday) Nov. 28 at 8 p.m. at Spartan Stadium in the first round of the state playoffs for community colleges.

West Valley captured the Camino Norte conference with a 20-18 win over DeAnza College Nov. 14. College of the Sequoias secured their berth in the state playoffs with a 24-22 win over Fresno.

Gates will open for the 8 p.m. playoff at 6 p.m. Prices for the game will be $2 general admission and $1 for ASB cardholders and staff members of the participating colleges.

This is the second year that Loomis, 180 pound sophomore left end and graduate of Saratoga High School, has made the All Conference grade. Throughout the season Loomis continually came up with key plays, helping to insure West Valley's ranking in the state—which now stands at third. COS is now ranked ninth.

Service Notes

GRADUATES

Airman Lynn E. Sterling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Sterling of 401 Dallas Dr., Campbell, has graduated at Lowry AFB, Colo., from the U.S. Air Force supply inventory specialist course.

The airman, trained to inventory supplies by use of electronic data processing machines, is being assigned to Lajes Field, Azores, for duty with the U.S. Air Forces in Europe.

Airman Sterling, a 1968 graduate of Camden High School, attended West Valley College.

His wife, Becky, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Johnson of 4852 Leigh Ave., San Jose.

COMPLETES COURSE

Army Private Donald B. Tabler, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Tabler, 1190 Emerson Ave., Campbell, recently completed a nine-week Unit and Organization Supply Specialist course at the U.S. Army Quartermaster School, Ft. Lee, Va.

Pvt. Tabler entered the Army in June 1970 and completed basic training at Ft. Ord., Calif.

Darting Around

with Tom Carroll

Campbell will be the site of both preliminary and final tournaments of the Northern California Darts Assn. Wednesday night, Dec. 2, the South Bay League Preliminaries for the doubles tournament will be played at the Black Knight, 1781 Winchester Blvd. The finals will be played at Concord in the Casa Adobe, on Dec. 20.

The Mixed Doubles preliminaries will be held at the Gaslighter Theater, 400 E. Campbell Ave., on Wednesday, Jan. 13. Mixed Doubles finals will also be held at the Gaslighter Theater. This will be 52 of the top dart throwers from the seven bay area leagues of the Northern California Darts Assn.

NORTH AMERICAN OPEN

The dates have been announced for the second annual North American Open Dart Tournament. It will be held August 25 and 26 in the Los Angeles area sponsored by the Southern California Dart Assn. The purse will be $2,000-plus.

This year's event, held in Culver City, was well attended by members of the South Bay League. Kip Fanjoy, John Glaze, Ted Allen and Jim Macredes of the Gaslighter I; Dave Pena of Banbury Clock I; Sonny Burry of Clock II; Bobbi Lindsay and Macredes' wife, Sherri, made the trip south to watch a team from Pennsylvania take first place. The Eastern group had never before shot English rules.

They had only shot "baseball" darts.

Kip Fanjoy, South Bay League Governor, won third place in the singles tournament and returned $200 richer, or should I say that it just about paid for the trip south!

The SCDA hopes that this time they will come closer to breaking even. This year's event cost them $1,045 to organize and sponsor. The many TV spots and interviews produced some spectators and many letters and phone calls.

The October 12 issue of Sports Illustrated also carried a story and the results. Only time will tell how much interest this has created. From my own experience, I would say that it would take five years to properly establish this event. With the increased darting interest in this area, I hopefully say it shouldn't take that long.

LEAGUE GAMES

Nine—Three was the magic number last Wednesday night in the South Bay League as three of the four games played ended with that score. The lone exception was the game between Banbury Clock II and the Scuttlebutt. The Clock took that match, 8-4. Meanwhile the Black Knight succumbed to Clock I, 9-3.

The two Gaslighter Theater teams played the two Lancashire Lad teams. Lad II defeated Gaslighter II (9-3) despite Jim "Robb" Robbins' high score of 134 and tons (100's) thrown by Jo Aydelotte and Tom Carroll. Lad I's offense was sparked by Frank Malsbury's 66 in, followed by a ton and Bob Nichols' 70 in, followed by a 99. Inspite of losing all their matches to date, Gaslighter II has won their last six team games.

DART GAMES NEXT WEDNESDAY (Dec. 2)

Northern California Darts Assn., South Bay League, Doubles Preliminaries (8 p.m.) Black Knight, 1781 Winchester Blvd., Campbell.
